

Hello Everyone!

My name is Lindsay Dilginis. I am pleased to have joined First Friends Child Development Center. I graduated from Penn State University with a bachelor's of science degree in human development and family studies. I have always had a passion for early childhood education therefore much of my focus for my degree was in child development. I received an internship at The Hort Woods Child Care Center working daily with the children and staff. This provided me the opportunity to gain hands on experience as a preschool teacher. In addition, I was involved in curriculum writing, assessment of children, participated in parent conferences and built strong relationship with families.

All the experience I received has prepared me for my new role at First Friends Child Development Center. In my role as Head Teacher I will be teaching the four and five year old preschool class, full days for five days per week. At the same time I will be working with teachers to keep our whole program engaging with active learning based on The Creative Curriculum. This will bring consistency to the curriculum across all age groups at our center creating meaningful learning activities. I am so excited to begin a new chapter of my life and start a career as a teacher. I will use my education to bring knowledge in Early Childhood Education into our center and provide a warm & safe environment for your children. I am passionate about early childhood education and thankful for this opportunity.

I can't wait to meet you and your children!
